GREAT CLOUDBURST AND FLOOD WRECKS DAM AND WORKS OF LA CROSSE WATER POWER CO.

BLACK RIVER IS A RAGING TORRENT

COFFER DAM IS SWEEPED AWAY IN THE FLOOD

OFFICIALS LEAVE TONIGHT

Meager Details of Havoc Wrought
Lead to Belief Immense Loss
Will be Suffered by Concern

A cloudburst near the works of the La Crosse Water Power company near Hatfield this morning is reported to have swept away the entire works, including the coffer dam and false work, entailing a loss of many thousands of dollars.

Following the disastrous storm and cloudburst the water in Black river rose fourteen feet, sweeping everything before it.

Manager W. W. Ferris of the water power company said this morning that he had received a telegram stating that the coffer dam had been demolished, but that he had found it impossible to communicate with the works and that he could not even estimate the damage.

The work is the largest job ever undertaken in the state and the loss will probably entail many thousands of dollars.

A telegram to The Tribune, via Minneapolis, states that the coffer dam, the false work and all of the work already constructed had been demolished. The loss was not estimated.

Further details of the cloudburst were unobtainable this afternoon, but it is thought there were other heavy property losses in the vicinity in view of the unusual rise in the stage of water.

Mr. Ferris, manager of the water power company, and Walter S. Woods, chief engineer, leave tonight for the scene of destruction.

All telephone lines at Hatfield are down.

GERMANIA RECEPTION

Reception for New Instructor of the Society

Wednesday evening a social gathering was held at the Germania hall in honor of the new gymnasium instructor, Mr. Jeskey and also a farewell party to the young ladies of the turning society who left for Green Bay to attend the state turnfest. The evening was spent in dancing until 11:30 when luncheon was served and the party escorted the girls to the train.

Mr. Jeskey, the new instructor accompanied the girls as far as Milwaukee, where he took the lake steamer to Chatauqua, where he intends to take a course at the gymnasium summer school at that place. The four leading ladies of the turning society who attended the worlds turnfest at Indianapolis two years ago are: Dora Berg, Anna Kahle, Clara Wendling and Lottie Hunda.

STRANGER DIES BY RAILROAD TRACKS

An unidentified man, about 35 years old, weighing perhaps 175 pounds, was picked up dead beside the Milwaukee tracks two miles this side of West Salem. His pockets contained only a pocket knife and a silver dollar. He evidently had been killed by jumping or being thrown from a moving train. He was buried today by order of Coroner Edward Cronon, who is investigating the case on the theory that trainmen ejected him while the train was moving, causing his death. Advertisements from Sparta say a man answering the description has been working there. The victim carried a package of new under clothing, the wrapping paper bearing the name of Peter Newburg's store. Mr. Newburg was unable to identify the remains. The Ingersoll watch the man carried was still running when he was found, lying face downward, beside the tracks.

AUTO ROLLS INTO DITCH AT NIGHT

FIVE PEOPLE PRECIPITATED
FROM ROAD BY CARRIAGES

TEAM DRIVER TURNS WRONG

Men and Women Bruised and Alarmed
but Serious Injuries Escaped—Auto Damaged

What might have been a serious accident occurred last night when an auto driven by William Ward left the road on the stretch between the fair grounds and the golf links, rolling in the ditch and inflicting slight injuries to the occupants, beside damaging the auto.

There were besides the driver four occupants of the car, two men and two women. The road there is just wide enough for two teams to pass. In front of the auto, which according to one spectator was going from ten to twelve miles an hour, there were two carriages traveling in the same direction. The auto signal sounded, and just as the car swerved to the left, as is the law, to pass vehicles, the hindmost of the two carriages turned in that direction also, coming up beside the forward carriage and completely blocking the road.

A steady head wind was rolling up dust clouds and with intermittent flashes of lightning so blinded the driver and obscured the carriage that the condition was not discovered until so late that the brakes could not prevent the impending accident, and to add to the confusion the dust hid the fact that the small ditch which follows the road reached dangerous proportions only at this spot.

One wheel of the car went over the bank, and the machine, though partially checked by the brakes, rolled into the ditch. Ward was bruised and badly shaken up. One of the women had her jaw injured, and her wrist sprained. All were more or less shocked and frightened. The automobile was considerably scratched and damaged.

A meeting of the committee will be held Monday for the purpose of taking up details of the campaign and deciding upon methods for the handling of them.

SEN. DICK DID NOT BORROW PUBLIC CASH

AKRON, O., July 5.—Surprise followed the assertion of Bank Examiner Parmelee that United States Senator C. F. Dick had borrowed public funds, a fact cited as partly explanatory of the technical shortcoming of the late treasurer, Fred Smith. In a signed statement Senator Dick denies this. He says he borrowed the money on canal stock from a bank, by which it was afterwards transferred to Smith in connection with another business transaction. Senator Dick says he did not even know Smith had acquired the obligation either through his handling of public funds or in any other way.

DEATH ENDS WAR FOR NEWTON CHILD

GEORGE MARION NEWTON DIES
IN MINNEAPOLIS

FUNERAL HERE ON SATURDAY

Action Was Pending in the Courts Between Mother and Father
for Possession of Child

Death has intervened and brought suddenly to a close an action in the circuit court here between Marion S. Newton of Watertown and his former wife, Rose Newton of Minneapolis, a fight for the possession of their child, George Marion Newton. The boy, died yesterday at St. Paul, aged 16 years.

The cause brought by the father and bitterly contested by the mother, has been pending in the courts here, Attorney Fred Hartwell representing the father. The boy is 16 years of age. Several years ago a divorce was granted the couple and recently the suit was started over the possession of the boy. The boy has been living with his mother.

The remains will be brought to La Crosse and the funeral will be held from the home of the grandfather, Andrew Warsaw, 1012 State street, this city, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made at Oak Grove cemetery.

ROCKEFELLER IS ENROUTE TO CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Ill., July 5.—John D. Rockefeller is enroute for Chicago and will arrive here late today.

Mr. Rockefeller, who successfully eluded an army of government process servers for six days, yesterday issued a statement through John D. Archbold, one of the vice-presidents and a director of the Standard Oil company, in which he wishes it understood that Uncle Sam did not "catch" him but that he voluntarily gave himself up.

In the meantime plans are being made by District Attorney Sims and Assistant District Attorney Wilkerson to proceed with the hearing tomorrow morning on the assumption that Mr. Rockefeller and other officers of the Standard Oil company will be in court prepared to answer Judge Landis' questions.

The story that he sent a plea to the judge to let him off with telling his story on deposition, is untrue.

Mr. Rockefeller will arrive over the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern at 9:05 o'clock tonight. Every precaution is being taken to protect the oil magnate during his stay here. It is expected that, despite the efforts of his attorney, he will be forced to take a stand in Judge Landis' court tomorrow, and answer questions now being prepared by the federal attorneys or be jailed. The Standard Oil attorneys will not give up hope of preventing the public appearance of Rockefeller until every legal technicality is exhausted.

BELGIAN KING TO MAKE "SCRUB" HEIR

BRUSSELS, July 5.—The prospect of the Belgian son of King Leopold and a woman of the commonest antecedents, becoming heir to the throne is causing the greatest anxiety to Belgians of all classes. Information given to Scripps-McRae from court authorities today says Leopold will solemnize with a civil ceremony his marriage under the religious ceremony to the baroness Vaughan, by whom he has a two-year-old son. The baroness was the widow of a coal heaver and her father was a janitor. Belgians declare they never will allow the throne to pass to one of the mediocre blood and think Leopold will be forced to abdicate if he persists in his plans. The elder can of the baroness by her first husband, is the socialistic leader, and should Leopold carry out his plans and then die, the baroness would have one son on the throne and one leading the socialistic faction.

SERIOUS ACCIDENTS OCCUR

Winona Boy Electrocutted, Unknown
Man Is Killed by Train and Another Has Face Badly Burned

Congressman John J. Esch yesterday delivered the Fourth of July oration at Fountain City, Wis., where a celebration of the national independence day was held. Mr. Esch's remarks did not deal with politics, but were a review of the accomplishments of our forefathers in making the land free, and the glorious deeds of the heroes of the war for independence.

Mr. Esch was followed by John Burt, the well known resident of the town of Cross, Buffalo county.

Accompanying Mr. Esch to Fountain City from La Crosse were John L. Uttermoos, W. H. Schuster and G. F. Sexauer.

Many accidents occurred at Fountain City while the La Crosse party was there.

Roy Van Syckel, aged 17, of Winona, attempted to climb a light pole and was electrocuted, dropping to the ground a corpse.

William Beffa, formerly of Genoa, who had perfected a toy cannon, had his face terribly burned with powder, though his eyesight may be saved.

Just when the La Crosse party was leaving the Burlington train which leaves La Crosse about 6 o'clock, struck an unknown man who was sitting on the track in the city. His body was thrown down an embankment into a skiff tied at the water's edge, where he was found later in a dying condition. One of his legs was badly mangled, and it was expected he could not recover. Owing to broken telephonic communication it was impossible to ascertain the victim's name this afternoon.

GREEN BAY, Wis., July 5.—"One per cent of the people of this country hold the other 99 per cent in bondage." This was the radical utterance of Francis E. McGovern, Milwaukee's district attorney, in an independent day oration here. He said men like Roosevelt and La Follette were helping to change deplorable conditions. He was loudly cheered.

WAY HOMEWARD

EXPRESSED WISH TO BE THERE

His First Trip Away is Believed to Have Led Him to Start Toward Melrose Domicile

Willis Johnson, the 15 year old son of Arthur Johnson, Melrose, Wis., who disappeared from the home of his uncle, with whom he was visiting at Fargo, N. D., is believed to have gone to the home of another uncle at Detroit, Minn. This is the belief prevailing in Fargo today, as told in special dispatches to The Tribune.

Homesickness influenced the boy to leave home, it is thought. During his visit at Fargo, he often told of a longing to return to his home at Melrose. He missed his parents in the strange land, though treated with great kindness by his uncle. Oftentimes he spoke of returning, and his disappearance is believed to have been caused by this.

The trip from Fargo to Melrose is an expensive one, and the youngster's cash probably was sufficient only to carry him to Detroit.

A continued search in the vicinity of Fargo and also in the city has failed to locate the missing boy.

Secretary of State Did Good Stroke of Business in South America and Mexico is Next

Washington Bureau of
The La Crosse Tribune.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.
Secretary Root thinks that when a man wants to get on better terms with his neighbors, the best way to do is to go over and see them and have a heart-to-heart talk. No secretary of state hitherto has so far ventured to climb down from the high pedestal of his dignity to do this but Mr. Root is not only doing it but doing it successfully. Having greatly increased American trade with South America by his visit to that part of the world last year, and having bettered relations between the United States and Latin America, the head of the state department now proposes to cement more closely the relations between the United States and Mexico where he will go this summer. All the indications are that it will be a remarkable visit and that Secretary Root will be received with the greatest enthusiasm and the most marked hospitality.

Great Reception for Root.
Word has been received here that the people and government of Mexico will fairly outdo themselves in their efforts to give Secretary Root a flattering reception. Mr. Root will not go until later in the summer but preparations are well under way in Mexico in expectation for his visit. The statesmen of Mexico have in mind the honors showed Secretary Root last summer in various South American countries and they are going to see to it that these are eclipsed. The Mexican minister of foreign affairs heads a committee of prominent officials having charge of the arrangements. This committee will meet Mr. Root at the Mexican border and will escort him throughout the entire trip, returning with him to the border. Senor Creel, the Mexican ambassador in Washington, one of the richest and most influential men in his country, is deeply interested in the success of the visit. He believes it will be helpful to both countries and will better the already excellent relations existing between them.

Mexico Rapidly Improving
It is not always appreciated in this country that under the wise and energetic administration of President Diaz Mexico is improving at a rapid rate. Her resources are being developed on a large scale. American capital is venturing more and more into Mexico, into mining, ranching and other lines of business and is receiving the warmest encouragement from President Diaz.

Wants Friendly Relations
The business relations between the two countries are constantly becoming more and more important and none realizes this fact more fully than Secretary Root. He understands that in the future, the United States ought to have a larger and larger share in the trade and commerce of Mexico and all the Latin American countries and that nothing can bring about desirable commercial relations so effectively as the raising of all suspicions and the maintenance of a friendly sentiment. With the United States pushing the Panama canal along to completion as rapidly as it can, Secretary Root understands the value of having the nations to the South entirely friendly. When in Latin America last summer.

CALL MOYER TO STAND SATURDAY

BOISE, Idaho, July 5.—The court convened late today to give the defense an opportunity to summon miner witnesses. Moyer may be called as a witness by the defense Saturday afternoon unless it is decided to put him on the stand before the depositions are read.

There have been rumors that Moyer would turn state's evidence to save his neck, and that Adams has also weakened. Moyer is declared by his attorneys to be indignant over the report which emanates from Colorado.

FARMERS BRING A BURGLAR TO JAIL

FRED THOMAS SENTENCED FOR
PETERS BURGLARY

DON'T WAIT FOR "HURRY UP"

Prisoner Held Down by Four Men, and Pleads Guilty, Being Sentenced to Year at Waupun

Arrested by farmers and brought to La Crosse yesterday afternoon, Fred Thomas, who burglarized the residence of Herman Peters, a farmer in the town of Campbell, was arraigned in county court today, before Judge Baldwin, and pleaded guilty to the charge. The court sentenced him to serve one year at Waupun.

Peters' residence was burglarized some three or four days ago. A good description of the burglar was spread among the farmers which resulted in his capture and arrest by them yesterday. The prisoner was escorted to La Crosse in a farm wagon by four men, who turned him over to Chief of Police H. H. Byrne upon his arrival here.

Young Thomas is 17 years old, claiming to hail from California. He robbed the residence of Peters on the West Salem road, just north of the Abbot, near the La Crosse river bridge in the day time and secured two revolvers, a watch, some money and other articles.

When arrested he only had one of the revolvers left, and said he had given the other one to a man in La Crosse.

He at first denied that he knew anything of the robbery of the residence, but upon being put through the "sweat box" confessed, and told of the location of the residence, which he had robbed. Mr. Yehle was assigned to have an assistant call at the residence of Hermann Peters to ascertain if they had the right man. Mr. Peters came to south La Crosse, identified his stolen goods, and the lad was given his sentence.

EDDIE IS A WONDER

La Crosse Boy Continues to Sting Ball in Big League

Eddie Konetchy will develop into a season find for St. Louis and there is little questioning this assertion. The big fellow continues to hit the ball in the major league and up to the present time has not made an error in his fielding. St. Louis lost both games to Pittsburgh yesterday, but Eddie hit the ball. In the first game he was at bat four times and secured one hit. In his fielding he had 11 putouts and 2 assists without an error. In the second game he was at bat 3 times, secured 1 hit and had 9 putouts without an error.

(By Lefty.)

The champs celebrated the glorious Fourth yesterday in a very able and systematic manner. There was no real exploding demonstration such as is called for on such an occasion, but at that a few holes were shot into Bubser's Oshkoshians and the champs came off without a scratch. Both the morning and afternoon contests at League park were brought home, the morning score being 4 to 3 and the afternoon score 3 to 0. For the shut out victory Frank Baillies must be patted on the back, for it was his masterful delivery backed up by perfect fielding that made it possible. He allowed the visiting holiday crowd but four hits and kept them scattered so that the champs couldn't get burned. On the other hand Lewis, the lengthened outside wheeler who was pulled out of the box in the morning, had bingos bunched on him, the champs setting them off when they had let the contest proceed seven innings.

In this spoken of seventh Moore came out with the punk and set off a cracker which called for a base. Medwizky sacrificed and Miller was good enough to let Hazel reach first on a ground hit. Hazel stole second and Mr. Buke set off a nice one which scored both runners. In the next inning Baillies led off with a hit and completed the circuit on a fielders' choice, sacrifice hit and outfield fly. Oshkosh had no opportunity to do anything with Baillies. This big fellow was in elegant form and mowed the men down as fast as they came up, but was assisted materially by his pals who gobbled up everything in sight. The game was quite a contrast to the morning exhibition.

The Morning Game

It was amid wrangling and kicking of the worst kind that the morning game was played. It was the worst game seen at the local yard this season, caused by the continuous rag chewing of both teams over the work of Umpire Murphy. That the champs finally carried off the game is a mystery, in view of the sour exhibition they put up. Hastings was on the slab and pitched a creditable game, but Killian behind the bat had mud on his fingers on two different occasions, allowing the ball to slip through and runners to score. The visitors secured their three runs in the second and third innings. With men on third and second Killian let a throw by which scored one and an infield grounder allowed the other. In the next inning another passed ball by Killian with a man on third brought in the other run.

How Was Done

In the fourth the champs struck a serious mood and there was an immediate result. Bond walked and Cahill singled and Moore flied out. Hazel then singled to left and Dolan in fielding the ball made a bad throw to second, the ball going into right field, Bond scoring. Med hit to Caldwell who threw Cahill out at the plate. Med was then caught between second and first, and while he was dodging back and forth Hazel arrived at the plate.

Bubser relieved Lewis in the next inning and the champs didn't get to their old messmate until the eighth when the score was tied. Bond walked again and Cahill singled again to right, Bond taking third on the hit. Moore flied out to center and Bond scored.

The winning run was secured in the ninth without the aid of a hit and with only two men at bat. Medwizky hit to Sullivan and the third sacker threw the ball to the bleachers, Med taking second. A passed ball let Med to third and he scored when Burke hit a high one into right field. The score:

THE DOPE BOX

No games scheduled today.

It is a question whether La Crosse won the morning game yesterday as Umpire Murphy was so rotten in his work a number of decisions were really terrible. However, the champs had a louder kick coming than did Oshkosh.

"Reddy" Moore was benched in the seventh inning of the first game for protesting a decision. Jones was sent into right field for the rest of the game. Bond set up a loud yell, but Murphy pulled his watch and called play.

Joe Killian was in awful form in the morning contest his two passed balls allowing the two runs. Hastings is a hard man to catch though.

The feature of the afternoon game was a one handed bare mitt stop by Hazel in the sixth inning with two men on bases. He grabbed a sizzler and doubled up a runner at second by tossing to Vogt.

"Red" White, the Oshkosh catcher, was watching under difficulties in the morning. He had a bad cut on his right hand and received several bad jolts from tip fouls. He struck with gameness.

Hazel is playing a great game at second. He now stars in every game and rarely does a ball get through him. He is picking out his hits in every contest also.

Daddy Cahill was the high chief slugger in the A. M. contest, picking three nice ones out of four times at bat.

Freeport won one game while La Crosse won two yesterday, the champs thus increasing their lead considerably. Freeport and Wausau played a 0 to 0 game in the morning.

Baillies hasn't lost a game for so long he is now looked upon as a winner. The big, easy-going fellow, surely has something his opponents can't fathom.

Oshkosh proved to be a tough proposition, but the champs downed them.

STATE LEAGUE GAMES

Madison 6-2, Fond du Lac 3-7
MADISON, Wis., July 5.—Madison and Fond du Lac broke even in the double header yesterday. Madison won the first game by a score of 6 to 3 and Fond du Lac the second by a score of 7 to 2. McConnell, who started to do the pitching for Fond du Lac in the first game, lasted only one-third of an inning, Madison getting four run sofs as many hits and two passes. Liese, who pitched the first game for Madison, allowed ten hits but they were scattered. The feature of the second game was two home runs by Ryan and Letcher. The score:

First game— R. H. E.
Madison 500 100 00—6 11 3
Fond du Lac 020 010—3 10 2

port tied with Wausau in yesterday morning's game, 0 to 0, and won the ing in either game, though the afternoon contest was exciting. The first game was called by agreement at the the score 1 and 1. Eberly pitched better ball the last game than he did the first. Francis of Green Bay pitched ed great ball for the Bays in the second game, and the only run came on an

UNDIGNIFIED MR. ROCKEFELLER

John D. Rockefeller said to the officer who arrested him that he wasn't trying to evade service. Of course that is a careless and inaccurate statement. But there is no particular reason for complaint, because the oil king is expected to disregard conventionality in all such matters as veracity.

It wasn't suspected that honest purpose and a clean conscience would impel this man of billions and disreputa to permit the unobstructed service of summons upon him. But it was thought that a sense of dignity together with the knowledge that he could only delay process by methods of concealment, would impel him to take the common sense course. Instead this magnate of the magnates goes skulking about, rendering himself ridiculous by farcical hide-and-seek.

It should be talk or jail for Rockefeller when he is put on the stand. And then it should be restoration, as far as possible, of the people's funds through the exaction of the full financial penalty afforded by the law.

OUR RAILROAD FACILITIES

In his farewell remarks before the board of trade, Judge Ray S. Reid, resigning secretary, regretted that it had not been possible for him to do something with railroad service and rates in this city. He said it was of utmost importance, but that there had been no sufficient sentiment and financial support to make a campaign in the name of the organization possible. He also called attention to the fact that the city of Milwaukee is just awakening to the absolute necessity of doing something with its transportation facilities if it means to compete with other large cities. Discussing this, the Milwaukee Journal offers suggestions as to methods of procedure, some of which may be good to read here in view of the probability that a similar undertaking will be begun. The Journal says:

"In comparison with the need of first class local transportation facilities with correlative improvements, all other municipal problems confronting Milwaukee today are for the time being dwarfed into insignificance. The controversy raised over the Frost franchise has served to prove indisputably that the people of Milwaukee must join hands in an active campaign for the settlement of transportation problem. The city is losing too much under the present unsatisfactory conditions to permit them to continue longer.

"The most effective manner of dealing with such problems as have arisen is by co-operation. The sympathies and assistance of everyone interested in the welfare of the city should be enlisted in the all-important undertaking. The city's legislative, executive and legal departments should be called upon to contribute. The various associations of business men should give their assistance, and the citizens of the community should be directly interested. The traction companies themselves should all be prevailed upon to co-operate with representatives of the city as they doubtless would be glad to do.

"The Journal would offer a tangible suggestion for the immediate settlement of the traction difficulties. We urge the organization of a Greater Milwaukee transportation commission on some such lines as these: 'Three members of the common council, preferably the president and judiciary committees. 'The city attorney.

"A single representative from each business men's association which chooses to respond to an invitation. 'One representative from each of the three street railway companies using the streets of Milwaukee.

"A citizen's committee of five members, one from each of the three city and two from the city at large, large geographical sections of the to be appointed by the mayor and to report to him.

"With three associations represented, a commission organized in accordance with this plan would have fifteen members. It would represent all the important interests of the city, as well as the transportation companies. It would embrace the departments of the city's government which have undertaken the solution of the traction problem and on which, ultimately, the responsibility for its proper solution must rest. Finally, it would represent the people who are dependent upon the street car lines for transportation to and from their daily labor. It would be non-partisan and representative only of the best interests of the city.

"The duty of this commission would be to plan for the wisest development of Milwaukee's transportation facilities for a score of years to come. It would adjust differences between the several companies and between the companies and the city. Its particular duty would be to draw up ordinances designed to give as speedy relief as possible from the present intolerable conditions, and recommend the same to the common council for passage.

"The strength of this commission must lie in the strength, integrity, sense of fairness and reason, and zeal for the city's welfare of its individual members and of those whom they would represent directly on the commission. The commission must have no weapon other than the power of public opinion. The transportation companies represented should not be pledged to abide by the findings of that body, but it should be left to their individual regard for the welfare of the city to insure their thorough co-operation in the undertaking.

"We urge the following subjects, among others, for consideration, investigation, promotion and determination:

"The provision of ample facilities or downtown streets for the Chicago and Milwaukee electric road, the city railway company and the Milwaukee Northern;

"Extensions and cross-town lines for the city company;

"New bridges, new viaducts and well-placed streets;

"The construction of new interurban lines, and provision on downtown streets for new companies;

"Arrangement for interurban loop lines and terminals to be used jointly by all roads entering the city.

"We urge this plan for the solution of the transportation problem and the attendant problems upon Mayor Becker, President Meisenheimer of the common council, the presidents and officers of the business men's associations, and upon the citizens of Milwaukee generally.

"To the young men of Milwaukee in particular we direct our plea. Have not the sane, calm and rational citizens of this city the brains and the energy to take up this problem and work out its solution along these or other equally or more effective lines?"

QUIPS AND CRANKS AND WANTON WILES

Eloping Up to Date
The coatless man puts a careless arm 'Round the waist of the hatless girl.
While over the dustless, mudless roads
In a horseless wagon they whirl,
Like a leadless bullet from hammerless gun.
By smokeless powder driven,
They fly to taste the speechless joys
By endless union given.

The only luncheon his coinless purse
Affords to them the means
Is a tasteless meal of boneless cod,
With a dish of stringless beans.
He smokes his old tobaccoless pipe,
And laughs a mirthless laugh
When papa tries to coax her back
By wireless telegraph.

"Ach, Look Oudt, Macbeth!"
Marion Hill tells a good story of the stage in the American Magazine. The chief character is a dull girl whom a persistent manager endeavors to drill as a witch in "Macbeth." "Like this," he hissed to the stolid Venus, trying to magnetize her with his magnificent eyes, "Macbeth, beware! beware! beware!"
"All right," whispered Brenda stoically. The performance was under way, and they dared not be too vocal. She glanced out to the stage in order to fix locations. "I say" he where?" and where iss it you will be, Mr. Studheim?"
"Right in front of you (You coldstorage swab—) And it's beware. It means look out, look out, look out—(And God help us al if we don't.)"

"Oh, I thank you, Mr. Studheim, for your explaining kindness," murmured Brenda.
He shot her an alert look, to detect possible sarcasm, but of course saw none. With a tragic supplication to the helpful powers above, Morris went to his doom.
For the wabbly passage up the trap, the glare of fire, the bloodshot agony in the eyes of the tortured Thane, all proved unsettling to the "second apparition," who gutturally wailed:

"Ach, look oudt, Macbeth, look oudt, two dimes, and look oudt some more yet."

He Wanted Company
Shortly after 2 o'clock one bitter winter morning a physician drove four miles in answer to a telephone call. On his arrival the man who had summoned him said:

"Doctor, I ain't in any particular pain, but somehow or other I've got a feeling that death is nigh."

The doctor felt the man's pulse, and listened to his heart.

"Have you made your will?" he asked finally.

The man turned pale.

"Why, no, doctor. At my age—oh, doc, it ain't true, is it? It can't be true."

"Who's your lawyer?"

"Higginbotham, but—"

"Then you'd better send for him at once."

The patient, white and trembling, went to the phone.

"Who's your pastor?" continued the doctor.

"Rev. Kellogg M. Brown," murmured the patient. "But, doctor, do you think—"

"Send for him immediately. Your father, too, should be summoned; also your—"

"Say, doctor, do you really think I'm going to die?" The man began to blubber softly.

"No, I don't," he replied grimly.

"There's nothing at all the matter with you. But I'd hate to be the only man you've made a fool of on a night like this."—Everybody's.

Her Maiden Effort

A certain judge had been away from his native city for several years and upon his return found it difficult sometimes to recognize former acquaintances. One morning a youthful woman, accompanied by a tall boy, entered the trolley car and sat down next to the judge.

"How do you do, judge?" she said cordially. "I don't believe you remember me? I am Mrs. X."
"Why, so it is! Mrs. X, I am delighted to meet you again. How do you do? And who is this with you? It can't be your son! Bless me, I would not believe you had a son so big."
"Oh, yes," replied the guileless Mrs. X, flattered by his cordiality. "He is my first-born, my maiden, effort, judge."—Lippincott's.

FASHION HINTS

(By May Marton)

5709 Boy's Russian Blouse Suit, 2 to 8 years.

No other costume ever takes the place of the blouse suit made in some such style as this one. It is becoming to the small boy, it is sufficiently mannish in effect to meet with his desires, it is simple and easily laundered and it is becoming withal. This one is made of white linen with bands of blue but is appropriate for all materials used for suits of this sort. For warm weather colored as well as white linen, khaki cloth, galatea and also the thinner chambrays and fine ginghams are correct, while for the cooler days serge, flannel and various other light weight wools are liked.

The little suit is made with blouse and knickerbockers. The blouse consists of fronts and back and is finished with a big sailor collar beneath which the shield is attached. The sleeves are comfortably full and tucked at their lower edges. The knickerbockers are in regulation style, drawn up by means of elastic below the knees.

The quantity of material required for the medium size (6 years) is 4 1/2 yards 27, 3 1/2 yards 32 or 2 1/2 yards 44 inches wide with 5 1/2 yards of banding.

The pattern 5709 is cut in sizes for boys of 2, 4, 6 and 8 years of age and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

OF HUMAN INTEREST

Now that the warm weather has really descended upon us, we almost forget the days in May and even June when we shivered, and shook and were loth to discard our warm wraps.

The porches once more have their merry gatherings and every one that has any kind of a veranda is sure to make the most of it from now on. Do mistresses that have servant girls give quite enough thought to their comfort as far as the porch is concerned? How restful is the thought of the cool porch through the hot hours of the day to any one confined to work in the house. If there is only one porch it is a pretty difficult problem—for of course the members of the family must first be considered. If there is a goodly side or back porch so much the better for these need not necessarily be devoid of artistic beauty and as far as being quiet or choosing their own companions, the servants in all probability wish to do this as much as the family. Facing the possibility of there being no porch room available, a cool or shady portion of the yard may be utilized. A rug or a chair that has seen better days may fill out its sphere of usefulness in this capacity. As a last suggestion let me add that the house or flat that contains the best provision for the comfort of its servants after their day's work is done is the one that is apt to receive the best that they have to offer in the way of willing service and faithfulness.

ANOTHER "REFORM" HERD

Religious enthusiasm in Iowa, unable to find vent in the "Amen" and pious ejaculation of a former generation, has resulted in the evolving of a church yell which was introduced at a revival and which promises to be adopted permanently as an expression of religious fervor. Here it is:

"Faith, Hope Charity;
Noble Christian Graces, three;
We will ever practice thee,
Hallelujah, rah, roh, re."

The Great Alaskan Story

"Has any one seen McNamara?" No one had, and when they were later assembled to take stock of their injuries he was greeted by Dextery's gleeful announcement:
"That's the duce of a fight. We 'ain't got so much as a cold sore among us."

"We have captured fourteen," another announced, "and there may be more out yonder in the brush." Glenister noted with growing surprise that not one of the prisoners lined up beneath the glaring torches wore the army blue. They were miners all, or thugs and ruffians gathered from the camp. Where, he wondered, were the soldiers.

"Didn't you have troops from the barracks to help you?" he asked.
"Not a troop. We haven't seen a soldier since we went to work."

At this the young leader became alarmed. Had this whole attack miscarried? Had this been no clash with the United States forces, after all? If so, the news would never reach Washington, and instead of accomplishing his end, he and his friends had thrust themselves into the realms of outlawry, where the soldiers could be employed against them with impunity, where prices would rest upon their heads. Innocent blood had been shed, court property destroyed. McNamara had them where he wanted them at last. They were at bay.

The unwounded prisoners were taken to the boundaries of the Midas and released with such warnings as the imagination of Dextery could conjure up; then Glenister assembled his men, speaking to them plainly.

"Boys, this is no victory. In fact, we're worse off than we were before, and our biggest fight is coming. There's a chance to get away now before daylight and before we're recognized, but if we're seen here at sunup we'll have to stay and fight. Soldiers will be sent against us, but if we hold out, and the struggle is fierce enough, it may reach to Washington. This will be a different kind of fighting now, though. It will be warfare pure and simple. How many of you will stick?"

"All of us," said they, in unison, and, accordingly, preparations for a siege were begun. Barricades were built, ruins removed, buildings transformed into block-houses, and all through the turbulent night the tired men labored till ready to drop, led always by the young giant, who seemed without fatigue.

It was perhaps four hours after midnight when a man sought him out.

"Somebody's callin' you on the Assay Office telephone—says it's life or death."

Glenister hurried to the building, which had escaped the shock of the explosions, and taking down the receiver, was answered by Cherry Malotte.

"Thank God, you're safe," she began. "The men have just come in and the whole town is awake over the riot. They say you've killed ten people in the fight—Is it true?"

He explained to her briefly that all ails well, but she broke in: "Wait, wait! McNamara has called for troops and you'll all be shot. Oh, what a terrible night it has been! I haven't been to bed. I'm going mad. Now, listen, carefully—yesterday Helen went with Struve to the Sign of the Sled and she hasn't come back."

The man at the end of the wire cried out at this, then choked back his words to hear what followed. His free hand began making strange, futile motions as though he traced patterns in the air.

"I can't raise the road-house on the wire and—something dreadful has happened, I know."

"What made her go?" he shouted.

"To save you," came Cherry's faint reply. "If you love her, ride fast to the Sign of the Sled or you'll be too late. The Bronco Kid has gone there—"

At that name Roy crashed the instrument to its hook and burst out of the shanty, calling loudly to his men.

"What's up?"

"Where are you going?"

"To the Sign of the Sled," he panted.

"We've stood by you, Glenister, and you can't quit us like this," said one, angrily. "The trail to town is good, and we'll take it if you do." Roy saw they feared he was deserting, feared that he had heard some alarming rumor of which they did not know.

"We'll let the mine go, boys, for I can't ask you to do what I refuse to do myself, and yet it's not fear that's sending me. There's a woman in danger and I must go. She courted ruin to save us all, risked her honor to try and right a wrong—and I'm afraid of what has happened while we were fighting here. I don't ask you to stay till I come back—it wouldn't be square, and you'd better go while you have a chance. As for me—I gave up the old claim once—I can do it again." He swung himself to the horse's back settled into the saddle, and rode out through the lane of belted men.

CHAPTER XX.

In Which Three Go to the Sign of the Sled and Two Return.

As Helen and her companion ascended the mountain, scarred and swept by the tempest of the previous night, they heard, far below, the swollen torrent brawling in its boulder-ridden bed, while behind them the angry ocean spread southward to a blood-red horizon. Ahead, the bleak mountains brooded over forbidding valleys; to the west a suffused sun glared sullenly, painting the high-piled clouds with the gorgeous hues of a stormy sunset. To Helen the wild scene seemed dived with the colors of flame and blood and steel.

"That rain raised the duce with the trails," said Struve, as they picked their way past an unsightly "slip" whence a part of the overhanging mountain, loosened by the change, had slid into the gulch. "Another storm like that would wash out these roads completely."

Even in the daylight it was no easy task to avoid these danger spots, for the horses floundered on the muddy soil. Vaguely the girl wondered how she would find her way back in the darkness, as she had planned. She said little as they approached the road-house, for the thoughts within her brain had begun to clamor too wildly; but Struve, more arrogant than ever before, more terrifyingly sure of himself, was loudly garrulous. As they drew nearer and nearer, the dread that possessed the girl became of paralyzing intensity. If she should fall—but she vowed she would not, could not, fail.

They rounded a bend and saw the Sign of the Sled cradled below them where the trail dipped to a stream which tumbled from the comb above into the river twisting like a silver thread through the distant valley.

A peeled flag-pole topped by a spruce bough stood in front of the tavern, while over the door hung a sled suspended from a beam. The house itself was a quaint structure, rambling and amorphous, from whose sod roof sprang blooming flowers, and whose high-banked walls were pierced here and there with sleepy windows. It had been built by a homesick foreigner of unknown nationality whom the army of "mushers" who paid for his clean and orderly hospitality had dubbed duly and as a matter of course a "Swede." When travel had changed to the river trail, leaving the house lonely and high as though left by a receding wave, Struve had taken it over for a debt, and now ran it for the convenience of a slender traffic, mainly stampedees, who chose the higher route towards the interior. His hiring spent the idle hours in prospecting a hungry quartz lead and in doing assessment work on near-by claims.

Shortz took the horses and answered his employer's questions curtly, flashing a curious look at Helen. Under other conditions the girl would have been delighted with the place, for this was the quaintest spot she had found in the north country. The main room held bar and gold-scales, a rude table, and a huge iron heater, while its walls and ceiling were sheeted with white cloth as cunningly stitched and tacked that it seemed a cavern hollowed from chalk. It was filled with trophies of the hills, stuffed birds and animals, skins and antlers, from which depended, in careless confusion, dog harness, snow-shoes, guns, and articles of clothing. A door to the left led into the bunk-room where travelers had been wont to sleep in tiers three deep. To the rear was a kitchen and cache, to the right a compartment which Struve called the art gallery. Here, free reign had been allowed the original owner's artistic fancies, and he had covered the place with pictures clipped from gazettes of questionable repute till it was a bewildering arrangement of pink ladies in tight, pugilists in scanty trunks, prize bulldogs, and other less moral characters of the sporting world.

A Memorable Day

One of the days we remember with pleasure, as well as with profit to our health, is the one on which we became acquainted with Dr. King's New Life Pills, the painless purifiers that cure headache and biliousness, and keep the bowels right. 25c at O. T. Erhart's drug store.

The atrically speaking, the heroine's death scene is usually less realistic than her hair dying.

UNIQUE CELEBRATION HELD

Arrangements Committee Card Startling and Entertaining Program Prepared

RED LAKE INDIAN AGENCY, July 5.—The native red men of the Red Lake Indian reservation appropriately celebrated the Fourth of July with a program of sports, games, dances and amusements, together with patriotic speeches, both in English and Chippewa.

The arrangements committee appointed the following subcommittees: Marshal of the day, Robert E. L. Daniel; treasurer, John G. Morrison, Jr.; games and races, O. Gravelle; J. C. Roy, W. H. Spears and Oke-mah-wub; reception committee and dance managers, Nay-ay-tah-wub, Ah-wun-ek-shig, Ge-ke-shig, Wain-jum-mah-dub, Ah-ke-wain-ze, Ah-jed-dum-co, Than-goss-kung.

A decidedly unique and interesting program was arranged for the day's celebration, and was as follows:

4 a. m., firing salute, rapid-firing gun; 5 a. m., raising of nets; 6 a. m., killing of dogs; 7:30 a. m., reception of visiting Indians; 7 a. m., dog feast; 7:30 to 9 a. m., smoking pipe of peace; 9 a. m., grand parade in full Indian dress, led by "Chief" Earl W. Allen; 10 a. m., oration in center of ring by Chief Kay-bay-gah-bow-ence; 10:30 a. m. to 12, war dance; 1 to 2 p. m., feast, dog pot pie and roast bull meat; 2 to 3 p. m., games and races, pony race, foot race, potato race, tug of war, Red Lake vs. M. R. L. & M. R. R. teams; canoe races, Red Lake vs. Cross Lake.

There was an Indian dance going on during the entire day and evening. Boweries were in full swing during the afternoon and evening.

As the average Indian is a thirty-third degree "celebrator" it is more than likely that the red men will continue their observance of the white man's Independence day until the end of the present month—at least as long as the good things to eat hold out.

FOR 6-FOOT CHANNEL

Large Number of Dams to Be Constructed

WINONA, Minn., July 5.—Some important improvements are to be made along the river here as soon as the sawmill of the Empire Lumber company at this place is permanently closed.

Captain Thompson, who has charge of this work, states that seven dams will be run out from the Winona shore above and below this mill site. Until the Empire mill is closed, which will be in a year or two, all the work will be confined to the Winona shore. All the work in river improvement now is being done to establish a permanent six-foot channel. To this end new dams are being constructed and old ones lengthened so that the navigable channel of the river at no point will be more than 625 feet across.

Two crews of men are soon to be brought here and four new wing dams are to be constructed from the Wisconsin shore opposite this city and the old dams are to be lengthened. In addition to this about 1,000 feet of the Wisconsin shore, opposite this city, is to be ripped.

WALKED TO DEATH

Minneapolis Girl Steps Into Deep Water at Lake

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 5.—Miss Julia Purple, 124 Bedford avenue, Minneapolis, drowned in Lake Minnetonka. She was bathing with Miss Marion Slater, and had walked out on a reef which runs out from Point Comfort. Miss Slater saw her step from the reef and then disappeared. She waited for a moment, and then dived down after her friend. She was able to grasp Miss Purple's arm, but her strength was not sufficient to bring her to the surface.

Then Miss Slater called for help, and C. W. Way of Minneapolis, who was fishing near by, responded. He dived and recovered Miss Purple's body. Efforts at resuscitation failed. Physicians declared that Miss Purple suffered from heart trouble and that the sudden plunge into the water had been too great a shock for the weak organ, causing almost instant death.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

St. Paul Man Is Struck by Bolt Yesterday

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 5.—The 21-year-old son of Fred Baumgartner, janitor of the Grant school, Arkwright and Magnolia streets, was instantly killed yesterday noon in the electrical storm which swept over St. Paul. The youth was sent by his father over to the school to watch the property during the storm. He and two friends were in the tower. The two friends were severely stunned.

In some way the lightning ran down the wires and struck Baumgartner, killing him instantly. The boy's parents live at 1067 Bradley street.

FARGO WOMAN IS ROBBED

Mrs. Briggs Enroute to New York
With Four Children Gets No
Farther Than St. Paul

ST. PAUL, July 5.—Mrs. Katherine Briggs of Fargo, N. D., complained to the police yesterday that she had lost $55 from her room in the Park hotel on Wacouta street, near Sixth. Mrs. Briggs and her four children had taken a room for the night, with the intention of resuming their journey to New York city Wednesday morning. The youngest child is seven months old and the oldest is a girl of eight. They all slept in one room, for which Mrs. Briggs paid $2. She told the police that she asked for the key to the room, but was told that there was no key, and that none was needed; that everything would be all right. She said she left her pocketbook containing $55 on a mantel in the room, and in the morning it was missing.

She says they went without their breakfast and that she went out to tell the police of her loss. She was taken to the county attorney's office, where she told her story to Assistant County Attorney Ryan, who turned her over to the board of control. Lodgings have been provided for the woman and her children at the Bethel until Friday. In the meantime Secretary A. W. Guttridge of the associated charities will investigate the case.

May Have Lost It.
The proprietor of the Park hotel said yesterday that Mrs. Briggs had a key to the room and that there was a bolt on the door. He says the money might have been lost by the children.

Mrs. Briggs says she lived in St. Paul until she was twenty-three years of age, when she married and went to North Dakota, where she has resided for the last fifteen years. Her father's name was George Shepherd. Mrs. Briggs says she was going to New York with the children to live with her mother, who resides on West 147th street. Her health, she said, was not good and she intended to have a surgical operation performed when she got to New York.

Feasing was examining the La Salle property of the Calumet & Hecla and ran across an old shaft, several hundred feet deep and partially filled with water. The timbers over the mouth of the shaft were rotten and broke with Feasing's weight. He fell thirty feet down the shaft when he managed to grasp a timber at the side of the shaft and hang on until he was rescued.

BAN ON KISSING GAME

Philadelphia Youngsters No Longer to 'Spin the Plate'

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 5.—All kissing games have been tabooed in the summer playgrounds conducted under the auspices of the board of education.

Supt. Martin G. Brumbaugh said today that orders to prohibit these games have been issued as a sanitary and hygienic precaution. Under no conditions will the school children be permitted to play "spin the plate," "drop the handkerchief," "postoffice," or any similar games, and any boy caught stealing a kiss from a girl on the sly will be ejected from the playgrounds for the rest of the season.

To insure health, a strict medical examination of all children attending the playgrounds will be made daily by the assistant medical examiners of the board of health.

DELAFIELD, Wis., July 5.—(Special.)—A trip that will remind every school boy of favorite library books, is to be the good fortune of Dr. S. T. He will go to Europe shortly and visit Rugby and Eaton, in England, with a view of getting ideas for features of the military academy of which he is the head.

NO KISSES; DIVORCE

Husband Would Part When Supply Is Cut Off

NEWARK, N. J., July 5.—Because she no longer kissed him when he left home in the morning to go to business, alleging that her love for him was growing cold, and accusing his father-in-law of alienating her affections from him to such an extent that she went to live at the home of her childhood, on Staten island, Edward T. Mason, a dentist, has filed papers asking for an absolute divorce from Mary L. Mason.

Mason alleges that he permitted his wife to live with his father-in-law while his business kept him in Brooklyn. Later he came to Newark and fitted out a nice, comfortable home.

His wife, he says, always kissed him when he left home, but one day she failed to do so, and for weeks after she slighted him. When he tried to get her and his two children to come to Newark she refused outright and later wrote him never to bother her again.

BROKER FIRM FAILS

R. M. Weaver & Co., Pittsburg, in Financial Straits

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 5.—R. M. Weaver & Co., one of the best known firms of stock and grain brokers throughout the country, failed to open the doors of their offices. Simultaneously a number of their branch offices were closed, those which continued open are expected to remain closed after today.

While there have been rumors of financial troubles for several days, still the failure came as a surprise. C. M. Weaver, head of the firm, is not in the city. No one seems to know where he is. His manager also is missing.

The Weaver firm operated in Allegheny, McKeesport, McDonald, Scranton, Wilkesbarre, Reading, Apollo, Butler, Uniontown, Leechburg and Philadelphia, this state; Toledo, Youngstown, Columbus and Dayton, O.; Detroit and several smaller cities in Michigan; Atlantic City, Jersey City, N. J., and Boston, Mass. It operated one of the most extensive systems in the country and had clients practically in every state.

MALE WEAKNESS

This disease of the functions by no means indicates general nervous decline, but is a direct result of inflammation, enlargement or excessive sensitiveness of the prostate gland, brought on by early dissipation or resulting from some improperly treated contracted disorder. These conditions cannot always be removed by internal medicines, alone, and any tonic system of treatment that stimulates activity of the functions can but result in aggravation of the ailment. This is a scientific truth that we have ascertained by careful study and observation in hundreds of cases, and is the truth upon which our own original system of treatment is based. We treat mainly by local methods, and our success in curing even those cases that others have failed to even temporarily relieve with their tonics is conclusive evidence that our method affords the only possible means of a complete and radical cure.

We Treat

HYDROCELE, PROSTRATIS,
GONORRHOEA,
STRICTURE,
LOST MANHOOD,
NERVOUS DEBILITY,
KIDNEY AND BLAD-DER TROUBLES.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS

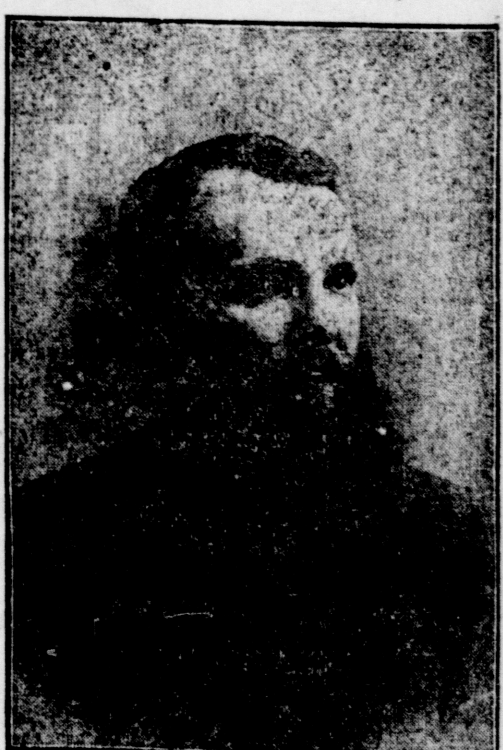

Kidney diseases affect a large number, although many are in ignorance of their trouble and attribute their unwell condition to some other cause. Male excesses, alcoholic liquors, severe sickness, which weaken the kidneys, often produce kidney diseases, and the usual systems are highly colored urine, with strong odor, sediment in urine, frequent urination or irregular, chilly and feverish spells, worn-out feeling, puffiness under the eyes or swellings. Our long study and extensive practice in the treatment of all forms of Kidney Diseases have familiarized us to the extent that we have attained skill which insures successful treatment in all cases that are not incurable. We determine the condition of the kidneys by a scientific analysis of urine and the many severe kidney troubles we have cured by our systematic course of treatment, after being given up as incurable by other physicians, gives us such confidence in our method as to assure every case we accept a permanent cure.

DR. J. A. WINTERS
SPECIALIST IN DISEASES OF MEN.

Specific Blood Poison

The most hideous of all venereal diseases—can no longer be classed as incurable. The idea that the limit of medical aid is to keep the disease dormant by persistently dosing the system with mineral poisons is as incorrect as many other ancient theories to which many of the profession cling. Our cure is thorough and permanent, and every symptom of the disease vanishes forever.

COFFEE COMPLEXION

Many Ladies Have Poor Complexions
From Coffee.

"Coffee caused dark colored blotches on my face and body. I had been drinking it for a long while and these blotches gradually appeared, until finally they became permanent and were about as dark as coffee itself."

"I formerly had as fine a complexion as one could ask for."
"When I became convinced that coffee was the cause of my trouble,
I changed and took to using Postum
Food Coffee, and as I made it well, according to directions, I liked it very much, and have since that time used it in place of coffee."

"I am thankful to say I am not nervous any more, as I was when I was drinking coffee, and my complexion is now as fair and good as it was years ago. It is very plain that that coffee caused the trouble."

Most bad complexions are caused by some disturbance of the stomach and coffee is the greatest disturber of digestion known. Almost any woman can have a fair complexion if she will leave off coffee and use Postum Food Coffee and nutritious, healthy food in proper quantity. Postum furnishes certain elements from the natural grains from the field that Nature uses to rebuild the nervous system and when that is in good condition, one can depend upon a good complexion as well as a good healthy body. "There's a Reason."

NORTH SIDE MAN THE VICTIM

Took Cash From Pocket to Pay Con-

One of the most daring pickpocket games heard of in La Crosse for some time occurred yesterday afternoon when a pocketbook with $10 in it was snatched from R. Crow while he was returning home on a car from the circus.

Mr. Crow was standing on the rear end of a trailer going to his home on the North side, and when opposite the street car barn, he reached in his pocket to pay the conductor. He took out his pocketbook and the thief grabbed it and ran west toward the river.

Mr. Crow gave the alarm and the passengers took up the chase. The man was finally captured, but in the mean time had given the booty to a confederate who escaped.

The pickpocket was escorted to the police station where he gave his name as George Wilses.

He is believed to be a professional thief following the circus.

which arose from the smoke was so strong that he was overcome.

He was hurried to Tunnel City and doctors were summoned.

They worked over him for fully a half hour before he regained consciousness.

JOS. R. CLEMENTS
SERVES SENTENCE

Will Be Freed From Stillwater Prison Monday

Joseph R. Clements of this city, the banker who was committed to the state prison from Houston county for irregularities in banking at Preston, will be discharged from the prison next Monday, July 8th, although his term is not up he has been allowed about three years for good behavior at the prison.

His sentence began July 20, 1900,
but he was not received at the prison until Feb. 15, 1901, the intervening time having been taken up with efforts for a new trial. He was convicted for receiving deposits in an insolvent bank at Preston, Minn.

During Mr. Clements' term he has been working in the finishing and packing department of the prison shoe factory. Mr. Clements has been growing a beard for several months and looks as he did when he entered the prison. During his term at Stillwater the residence on the corner

Mrs. Clements has made monthly visits to the prison to see her husband.

DIDN'T HURT STREET

Circus Wagons Did Not Injure Pavement

No damage whatever was done by the Barnum and Bailey circus to the streets of the city yesterday. The heavy wagons travelling over the macadam pavements usually tear up the streets considerably, this being experienced in the past, but careful protection was given the streets this year against such a result. An investigation was made this morning and the pavements were found to be in good shape. The wagons were run down State street, this street not being paved from Sixth out.

BILL SQUIRES A FALSE ALARM

TOMMY BURNS KNOCKS HIM OUT BEFORE A ROUND IS DONE

LANDS ON THE JAW HARD

Antipodean Never Lands With a Blow and is Badly Outclassed by the Canadian

OCEAN VIEW RINGSIDE, Colma, Cal., July 5.—Bill Squires, the mystery from Australia, landed a portion of a round last night when Tommy Burns solved the mystery with a succession of right hand blows to the jaw and the fight was over. The fact that Squires was an unknown quantity had lent interest to the fight, and the biggest crowd that ever gathered at an outdoor contest assembled just outside San Francisco to witness the contest. Fully 9,000 people were in the arena and paid all the way from $2 to $20 to see two minutes and eight seconds of fighting. What fighting there was was decidedly one-sided, as Squires never landed a blow. Within ten seconds after the gong had rung for the men to begin, stocky little Burns swung his right to the Australian's jaw and he went down. It looked then as if the fight was over, but in about four seconds Squires staggered to his feet and rushed violently at Burns. They came to a clinch and Squires slammed his huge fists up to fight. Then they broke in the center of the ring, and Burns immediately popped over another right and Squires went down again. He got up in a second, and then Burns swung a succession of rights, each one staggering the Australian until he dropped his arms. Then Burns swung his right gain with tremendous force and it was all over. The result, while a surprise to many, keeps Jim Jeffries still in retirement. He had announced that if Squires won, he would meet him in the ring. Beyond demonstrating that he can hit hard and with lightning speed, Burns had no opportunity of demonstrating his class. The end was too sudden.

At 2:07 the men stood in the ring and received their final instructions from Jeffries. At 2:10 p. m. the men commenced fighting. Squires went after Burns, feinting and leading. They came to a clinch in a corner, but no damage was done. Burns landed a right to the jaw and Squires went down. He stayed down four seconds and came up fighting. They went into a clinch and as they broke Burns poked a vicious right swing. Squires poked a right into Burns' body. Burns landed another right swing under the jaw. The knockout blow followed several that landed on Squires' chin and he collapsed and fell flat on his face. Big Jim Jeffries stood over him and slowly counted off the ten seconds that he might have spared himself the trouble, as it was evident the Australian was down and out for keeps. Immediately the crowd swarmed into the ring, while Squires seconds carried the "false alarm" from Australia to his corner.

FEAR A TIDAL WAVE

Guards Will Keep Crowd From Water's Edge

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 5.—W. T. Bronson of Waveross, Ga., who weighs 570 pounds, and who is coming to Philadelphia to attend the Elks' convention as the biggest member of the fraternity, is coming here for a couple of days.

The proprietor of a bathhouse along the boardwalk is having made for this giant a costume which will be the largest ever worn. The upper garment measures six feet around the waist and has been made from figures supplied by the man who is to don it.

Mr. Bronson is said to be an expert swimmer, and when he appears on the Strand and takes his initial dip guards will be instructed to warn the crowd back from the water line for fear his plunge will cause a small tidal wave.

GIRL DROPS INTO WATER

BEAVER DAM, Wis., July 5.—(Special).—Miss Laura Phillipson, who got marooned in Beaver lake several weeks ago was rescued by a young devotee. At that time she was tipped out of her boat and fortunately landed on a waste island a few feet away. Her latest experience has to do with water and a cellar. After school she returned home as usual and found the house locked up tight. The folks had gone out. Therefore she started to get in through the cellar window. When she dropped she struck eighteen inches of water. Pulling off her shoes and stockings in stork fashion, Miss Phillipson started for the stairway. After ascending she found the cellar door barred, too. Not without resources even then, she got into a washtub and paddled back to the cellar window whence she came. She is ready for another experience.

SELF-MADE MINISTER

FULTON, Ill., July 5.—(Special).—A remarkable story of a self-made minister—is told here of Rev. L. C. Voss, a former Wisconsin man. He has just assumed charge of the Presbyterian congregation at Woodhull, Ill., considered one of the best churches in this creed in Illinois. Mr. Voss was born in southwestern Wisconsin in 1870 and his mother died when he was an infant. He did newsboy stunts, became a printer's devil and later worked his way through Lawrence university at Appleton by doing odd jobs in Appleton newspaper offices. He graduated from Lawrence in 1901 and McCormick seminary in later years.

GLEASON'S BOAT FASTEST ON RIVER

BEATS "BAT" WITH FIVE MINUTE BREAKDOWN

CAME IN SECOND AT THAT

New Red Wing Speeder Has all Others "Backed off the Boards" When Speed Is Considered

With a five minute's full stop in a six mile race, due to trouble with the engine, E. P. Gleason yesterday defeated Titus "Bat," heretofore the fastest launch on the river, and came within a small margin of taking first place which he lost when his engine stopped, at the Wabasha race yesterday.

The course was about six miles long, starting and ending just in front of the city, with two turns. There were several entries, and when the start was made Gleason's Red Wing boat pulled away from the bunch, and evidently had them all distanced. In the boat were E. P. Gleason and J. R. Trautner, manager of the Red Wing factory. At the second turn the engine stopped dead, the multiple other having failed to operate for some reason, causing the wrist bearing in the engine bases to run dry. For a time it was impossible to turn the flywheel, the bearing having locked, and for five minutes the boat was at a standstill. Meanwhile the fast Winona eight horse power boat which was in La Crosse a few days ago, crept up and passed and the "Bat" was within a few feet of Gleason's craft when they finally got her running again. She could not be speeded up, however. Like she ran before the accident occurred, and it was impossible to overtake the Winona boat, though they soon outdistanced the "Bat." Gleason's new boat made one of the miles in the race in 2:55. The boat is 32 feet long with 4 foot beam and is equipped with a 12 horse power engine, in three cylinders. Gleason, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city with the boat this morning at 10 o'clock, having made the trip from Winona in about fifty minutes, against a strong wind which forbade high speed owing to the drenching spray. He expects to make this distance in 40 minutes.

Storm at Trempealeau.
A terrific storm was raging at Trempealeau with a heavy wind and rain. It was necessary for Mr. Gleason to stop there until the storm blew over.

BURGLAR BREAKFASTS WRITES HIS THANKS

When Alfred Gibson, awoke yesterday morning and prepared to eat his breakfast, which he had prepared the night before, at his home, 1220 Vine street, he found in its place a note thanking him for the food provided. The remains of the meal were strewn about the table, where some hungry person had evidently appeared his appetite during the night.

Mr. Gibson, who is employed by the Nelson Carpet company as carpet layer, keeps apartments on Vine street, and as a rule takes his morning meal home the night before in order to have it ready in the morning. This he did Wednesday evening as usual. Evidently some one entered his apartments during the night.

It is barely possible, however, that the affair is a joke perpetrated by Gibson's friends.

FATHER OF 13 SEEKS TO DIVORCE WIFE

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 5.—Geo. Casper Weiss, who is the father of thirteen children, eight of whom are still living, applied today for a divorce.

Weiss in his petition alleges extreme cruelty, and says he was married forty-seven years ago, but for the last ten years his wife has refused to allow him to dwell at his farm, which contains 105 acres, near this city. They were married in 1860 just before the war.

Weiss says his wife, Charlotte, and he lived happily together until ten years ago, when she commenced treating him with cruelty, and he also charged that she has threatened to take his life. He would not give his nor his wife's age, but they are about 70 years old.

BAKING INSPECTOR A BUSY DELEGATE

ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS GREATLY INCREASED ACTIVITY

MORE WORK FOR LESS MONEY

Increase of 48 Per Cent in Efficiency With Total Saving of $200 to the State

MADISON, Wis., July 5.—(Special).—The perusal of the state bakery inspector's report just published by the bureau of labor and industrial statistics, reveals the fact that the present state bakery inspector reached 271 more bakeries during the last year than the inspector of two years ago. This means an increase of 48 per cent at over two hundred dollars less expense to the state than ever before. In other words, 839 bakeries and confectionery establishments were inspected during the last year while only 568 were inspected during the previous year at over two hundred dollars less expense to the state.

Decrease in Child Labor
The last bakery inspectors' report shows that child labor has decreased in the bakeries nearly 50 per cent, and that there has been a large increase in adult labor. Most of the increase in adult labor has been males, while there has been a large decrease in the number of females employed in bakeries. A large percentage of the bakeries in the city of Milwaukee require ten to twelve hours per day more work than those outside of Milwaukee. About 18 per cent of the 839 bakeries were found to be in an unsanitary condition. The percentage of those in Milwaukee so found, is rather larger than that outside of Milwaukee.

The number of orders issued by the inspector amounted to 892 or little more than one to each establishment. The greater portion of these related to white-washing or painting and other general sanitary conditions, and a cleaning of furniture and utensils. All the orders issued were complied with.

During the year there were about 14 prosecutions for failure to comply with the bakery inspection law.

New Law Much Better

The present legislature has changed the bakery inspection law very materially. Under the old law it made no difference what the sanitary condition of a bake-shop was, the proprietor could not be prosecuted until after 30 days notice had been given him and not then providing the order had been complied with in the mean time. The proprietor could again commit the same offense and be again immuned from punishment providing he complied with another 30 day order, etc. Under the present law when a bake-shop is found in an unsanitary condition, the baker can be taken before the court without notice, and on the second offense, his right to run a bakery may be taken from him and others who will conduct a sanitary shop will be allowed to come in and take his place.

LAW WAS VIOLATED

Discharge of a Cues Against Ordinance's Command

The trouble and noise experienced yesterday from the use of torpedo canes, not to mention the nuisance caused by them has brought it to the attention of the police department and city officials that an ordinance will have to be passed to prohibit the use of these noise makers. In addition to making noise they make trouble and cause damage. There were hundreds of them in use yesterday by small boys, girls and men, who would stamp them under some person and cause fright. People of nervous dispositions were placed under terrible strain if they had occasion to pass down the streets.

Damage was done by the canes in front of the Barron dry goods store. For the purpose of letting light into the basement there is glass in the walks. The stamping of the canes on the glass broke it.

The shooting of roman candle balls into street cars proved a diversion of several people along Main street in the evening. When the cars returned with the crowds from the circus several people shot the roman candles directly at the cars, a number of the balls entering the car windows and striking the passengers. No damage was done, however.

BOY IS ACQUITTED

Charles Lueth Did Not Hit Old Man Intentionally

Charles Lueth was today acquitted by a jury in county court of a charge of assault, preferred by Dan Devorse, an aged resident of the section of the city known as "Goose-town."

In company with other boys, young Lueth, who is but 14 years of age, was playing baseball in an alley near the corner of Badger and Eleventh streets, some time ago. Young Lueth was "itching" when the old man, who is 70 years of age, was struck between the eyes by a wild pitch.

The boy claims that he did not see the man, but Devorse contended that the youth had done it intentionally and maliciously. The jury was composed of William Hellfach, Dan Clarke, Cyrus Snyder, William Bacher, Joe Goodland and J. S. Miller.

Attorney W. F. Wolfe appeared for the boy.

Miss May Sheehan of Caledonia is spending a few days with friends in La Crosse.

HOLD INSTITUTE AT WEST SALEM

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS ANNOUNCEMENT TO TEACHERS

BEGINS MONDAY, JULY 15TH

Continues Nearly Two Weeks; Announcement Also Given Out of Summer Examinations.

County Superintendent of Schools B. F. Oltman of West Salem has issued a formal announcement of the La Crosse county teachers institute to be held in the village July 15 to July 26 inclusive. Included is the announcement of examinations of teachers' certificates to be held as follows: West Salem, July 29, 30 and 31; Bangor, 2 and 3; Onalaska August 5 and 6.

Superintendent Oltman's communication to the teachers is as follows:

"As announced in the circular sent you some time ago, our 1907 Teachers' Institute will be held in the high school building at West Salem, July 15-26, conducted by Prof. G. L. Bowman, principal of the Normal Training school at Menomonie. Prof. D. O. Kinsman, of the White-water Normal school; Miss Amy Molstad, supervisor of music in the West Salem schools, and the county superintendent.

A Strong Force of Instructors.
"From the foregoing you will see that we have a strong force of instructors, and you may feel assured that the coming institute will be run upon business methods, that every minute will be made to count for something, that energy and enthusiasm will dominate, and that those in attendance—if present with the proper motive—will carry away with them something of positive and immediate value in the way of teaching and training power.

Of Value to All Teachers

"No person intending to teach in La Crosse county by virtue of a county certificate should miss the opportunity of attending this institute. Others may well profit by attendance, and will be cordially welcome. The institute committee says: "To keep abreast with the best in the educational field, all graduates of normal schools should attend and take an active part in all institutes, for every institute has something of practical value for every teacher." As was said last year, "Any teacher who through neglect or indifference fails to attend the institute, deprives her school of something to which it is justly entitled; and hence I feel it to be my duty to urge you to attend, and to be present for the full time, from the opening to the closing hour." There is no charge for tuition.

"The course of study will carry practically all the common school subjects, but the work will be professional rather than academic. Those of little or no experience in teaching will be required to take Reading and Library reading, school management and manual, and language. All other members of the institute will be at liberty to take such subjects as they may deem best; although no member should endeavor to carry more than four regular subjects.

"Bring such text books as you may have. There will be a daily exercise in dictionary work; hence bring dictionaries with you. Also be sure to bring your 1906 manual, for our new supply of manuals will only be sufficient to supply the new teachers.

Music a Special Feature

"A special feature of the institute this year will be instruction in school music. Miss Molstad will be in charge of this work, and every member will be given an opportunity to take this in addition to the regular work of the institute. Not only is music a splendid aid in maintaining of good order, but there is a growing demand for singing in the schools, and teachers will find it the part of wisdom to prepare themselves to meet this demand. There will also be daily class exercises in reading, illustrating the latest and most approved methods of teaching that subject. This will make the work in reading especially interesting and helpful.

Institute Pleasant and Profitable

"Every effort will be made to make the coming institute both pleasant and profitable to the teachers attending. Those needing information concerning boarding places will please inquire of the superintendent. The first session will begin promptly at 9 o'clock. It is hoped that you will be present and help to make things move as they should. Any further information will be cheerfully furnished.

"A cordial invitation is extended members of school boards to visit the institute and become familiar with the character of the work being done."

DIVORCES GRANTED

Three Unhappy Matches Are Broken by Court

Divorces were today granted to Emma Knudson vs. Otto Knudson; Hilda E. Hoard vs. Charles W. Hoard of Tomah; Minnie Grossman vs. Christ Grossman, Columbia county. In every case the cause of action was cruel and inhuman treatment, and non-support.

IN COURT TOMORROW

The pickpocket arrested by the police yesterday who gave his name as George Wilsee, will be taken into county court tomorrow morning to stand trial. Since locked up the police has not questioned him. He is thought to be an old hand at the business.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

Every one should take a tonic in the Spring; their systems require it. The blood has become thick and sluggish with the accumulations left in the system from the inactive, indoor life and from the heavy, rich foods of the Winter season. The blood, being in this unnatural and disordered condition, is unable to furnish the body with the increased amount of nourishment necessary for the more energetic life of Spring and Summer, and the system suffers from debility, weakness, nervousness, indigestion, loss of appetite, and many other unpleasant symptoms of a disordered blood circulation. When the system is in this run-down and disordered condition it is not safe to take unknown concoctions, sarsaparillas, compounds, etc., because they usually contain potash or some other equally strong and harmful mineral ingredient, which acts unfavorably and often dangerously on the depleted, weakened system at a time when it needs gentle and natural stimulation to throw off the impurities and recuperate its lost energy. S. S. S. is appropriately called Nature's tonic. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks from the great storehouse of forest and field, selected for their purifying and health-restoring qualities, and as it does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form it is perfectly safe for young or old. S. S. S. acts directly on the blood, ridding it of all impurities and poisons, and restoring the lost properties of rich, nutritive strength so that it is able to supply the system with the healthful, invigorating energy needed to pass the trying season of the year. Its action is the most pleasant, prompt and satisfactory of all tonics, and those who feel the need of such a medicine will do well to commence the use of S. S. S. at once. S. S. S. restores lost energy, relieves the tired, worn-out feeling, helps the appetite, aids digestion, and adds tone and vigor to the system. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Eggs advanced a cent a dozen today and are now selling at 13@15 cents per dozen.

The chicken crop is one that will be short on account of the cold, wet spring. Raisers of poultry throughout the state report that the weather has worked havoc among the broods of chickens and other fowls and that they have died by the hundreds. HEAVY LOSS TODAY

MARKET FALLS OFF MORE THAN A CENT ON JULY

But Reaction Followed After Pull Went to Top at 97, and Close Was 1¼ Lower

La Crosse Stock & Grain Commission Company
CHICAGO, Ill., July 5.—Wheat was high at 97 today, but suffered a decline of over a cent. It opened a fraction above Wednesday's close, and went up quickly, but under a reactionary movement fell off a total of 1 cent. Corn and oats were a fraction higher.

Things He Didn't Understand.

A shrewd, worldly agnostic and a Christian clergyman dressed in a modest clerical suit sat at the same table in the Pullman dining car. They were waiting for the first course at the dinner, a delicious Hudson river shad. Eying his companion coldly for a moment, the agnostic remarked:

"I judge you are a clergyman, sir."

"Yes, sir. I am in my Master's service."

"Yes, you look it. Preach out of the Bible, don't you?"

"Oh, yes; of course."

"Find a good many things in that old book that you don't understand, don't you?"

"Oh, yes; some things."

"Well, what do you do then?"

"Why, my dear friend, I simply do just as I do while eating this delicious shad. If I come to a bone I quietly lay it on one side and go on enjoying the shad and let some fool insist on choking himself with the bones."

Then the agnostic wound up his Waterbury watch and went into the smoker.—Exchange.

Medicine In Ancient Egypt.

There is much evidence in inscriptions and manuscripts that the ancient Egyptians practiced medicine and surgery extensively. Probably their practice was based on little knowledge of anatomy. Each physician treated only one or two diseases. The sick were exposed in public places so that others who had suffered similarly might tell them of helpful remedies. Diseases of the eye were best understood and received both medical and surgical treatment. The most important medical manuscript found in Egypt is the Uppurys Ebers, written 3000 B. C. and discovered in Memphis. Disease, according to the Egyptians, was due to the anger of some deity, the result of the triumph of evil in its struggle with good, an idea which is still very general throughout Africa and Asia and which at some time has been prevalent in modified forms in almost every race.—Records of the Past.

In a Fog.

Nothing has such a bewildering effect as fog. Only animals which find their way by scent can get about in it with any certainty. Birds are entirely confused by it. Tame pigeons remain all day motionless and half asleep, huddled up, either in or just outside their pigeon houses. Chickens remain motionless for hours during heavy fogs. No bird sings or utters a call, perhaps because it fears to betray its whereabouts to an unseen foe. During one very thick fog a blind man was found wandering about a certain district of London. This man was in the habit of coming up every day from a suburb, carrying notes and parcels, and had scarcely ever lost his way before. Asked why he had gone astray (for he was quite blind, and it was supposed that weather would have made no difference), he said that in a fog the ground "sounded quite differently."—Chums.

Entranced.

The happy couple dashed through the showers of rice and old shoes and reached the train.
"Oh, George," whispered the blushing bride, "do you hear what they are shouting?"
"No," replied George, trying to loosen a white ribbon that had been attached to his silk hat. "What are they shouting?"
"They're off! They're off!"
George smiled broadly as he helped her aboard the parlor car.
"Oh, that's all right, my dear," he assured. "All couples are a little off when they are starting on their honeymoon."
And then began the rainbow tour personally conducted by Hymen.—Chicago News.

FEWER ACCIDENTS THAN IN THE PAST

YESTERDAY COMPARATIVELY A SAFE FOURTH

SEVERAL ARE SLIGHTLY HURT

Crackers are Thrown Into Street
Cars Crowded With Circus
Crowds Cause Excitement

Yesterday was a comparatively safe Fourth.

There were not as many people injured as in past years, which is probably due to the fact that torpedo cans replaced to a large measure the dangerous dynamite crackers of the past. These cans, while nerve racking and annoying, are not nearly so dangerous as the crackers and few accidents were reported.

No fatalities were reported and few of the accidents were very serious.

Among those not previously reported in The Tribune are the following:

John Orton, 812 La Crosse street, had his fingers badly burned with a dynamite cracker.

George Zemiska, 1217 South Tenth street, had his hand shattered by the explosion of a large cannon cracker.

Henry O'Neill, 1231 Mill street, met with a similar accident, having his hand shattered by the explosion of a cannon cracker.

Miss Marie Haberland had the side of her face seriously burned by the exploding of a fire cracker which was thrown into a street car, and an unknown man had his ear burned by the same cracker.

Miss and Maid—"I have been told that you were love-making out in the field, and this greatly displeases me." "Oh, ma'am, so it does me. I should prefer a nice drawing room."—Translated for Transatlantic Tales from "Il Mottio per Ridere."

WISCONSIN NEWS

STORM THAT SWEEPED STATE DESTRUCTIVE

CONFLICTING REPORTS SHOW
5; MAYBE 10, DEATHS

BLACK RIVER FALLS IS WORST

Three Deaths Occurred in That Vicinity, One at Neilsville and One at Waupaca.

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., July 5.—The tornado that passed here near Millston and Warren Wednesday afternoon caused the loss of three lives, besides injuring several persons. The storm struck the house of Joseph Buchner with just enough warning to give the family time to get down into the cellar. One boy, however, was carried away with the house, which totally disappeared. The boy landed in a field and was badly bruised. The barn was carried away after the house and a horse and some timbers were taken up and deposited in the cellar on top of the family. Buchner and his wife were badly injured, three children hurt, and two of the children killed. Mrs. Jasper Poff, residing near Warren, was also killed. The patch of the tornado at Buchner's was only from two to six rods wide.

Casualty at Waupaca.
WAUPACA, Wis., July 5.—During a heavy wind and rain storm which passed over here yesterday a barn on the farm of Ike Terrill, southwest of here, was blown to pieces, and James Stunwant, who had taken refuge from the storm, had an arm broken by a falling timber.

Barn Is Struck.
OCONOMOWOC, Wis., July 5.—The barn at the C. C. Harris farm north of the city, was struck by lightning last night and burned to the ground. A horse, two calves and a quantity of hay and machinery were consumed by the flames.

Death and Damage.
NEILSVILLE, Wis., July 5.—Lyman Charles was killed in the cyclone here Wednesday. About ten persons were badly injured. The cyclone seemed to originate near Togo and taking a southeasterly course, came within half a mile of this city. Its path was twelve miles long and one-fourth of a mile wide. Fifteen buildings were destroyed and thousands of trees were uprooted. Another cyclone passed through Pray, killing three persons.

Eighty Rods Wide.
FOND DU LAC, Wis., July 5.—A newspaper correspondent visited the cyclone section west of Fairwater today and found that the cyclone swept a path eighty rods wide and three miles long. Four barns are completely destroyed and houses on the farms and outbuildings are unroofed. The barn of Charles Bierman, a mile west of Fairwater, was ground into splinters, the windmill was destroyed, and the pump was drawn from the well. Three cows were killed, the flesh being reduced to pulp. Sheds and fruit trees were blown down and fences were destroyed. No loss of life is reported. The storm descended suddenly and at the end of three miles went as suddenly in the air again, ending the destruction. The probable damage is $5,000 to $10,000.

Wires Are Down.
WAUSAU, Wis., July 5.—The windstorm did not reach here last night. Wires are down and no reports can be secured from the surrounding country.

Lightning Was Terrific.
GRAND RAPIDS, Wis., July 5.—Frank Whitrock, a farmer in the town of Grand Rapids, had a narrow escape from death during the rain and electrical storm. Mr. Whitrock and his son had been working at the golf grounds during the afternoon and had just put their team in the barn when the storm broke. The lightning drove the men to a nearby shed, and they were no sooner under cover than the lightning struck the barn they had just left, setting it on fire and killing the team of horses which Mr. Whitrock had just tied.

Cyclone Hit Manawa.
MANAWA, Wis., July 5.—A terrific electrical rain, wind, and hail storm of almost cyclonic force swept over this section Wednesday afternoon with most destructive results to all farm and garden crops. The devastated district is extensive and the loss to farmers incalculable. Many buildings are wrecked and fruit and shade trees uprooted and broken down. The torrential rain, amounting nearly to a cloudburst, flooded all low lying grounds, filling cellars and basements and causing disastrous washouts along highways and cultivated fields. The general destruction to farm and village property is by far the greatest known to the oldest inhabitant.

EXPLODING LAMP KILLS YOUNG WOMAN

FOND DU LAC, Wis., July 5.—Jessie Commo, a prominent young woman of this city, was burned to death last night when the lamp she was carrying exploded. She died one hour afterward. Her body was burned in a horrible manner.

A Wonderful Happening.

TWO DEATHS IN RACINE

Great Powder Explosion Proves Fatal—Other Cities Report Serious Mishaps

RACINE, Wis., July 5.—Fourth of July accidents were more numerous this year, despite rain, than in many years before. Two persons were probably fatally injured. At 1222 North Michigan street a child threw a lighted firecracker into a can containing seven pounds of powder. In the explosion a shed was blown to pieces and the following were seriously burned:

John Solis, may not live.
Patrick Dunham, may not live.
John Jacobs.
Max Dunham.
Ethel Dunham.

John Hoblik, 25 years old, was shot in the back by a stray bullet which glanced up and came out of his neck. The wound may be fatal. He did not know who fired the shot or from which direction it came. G. S. Chuetten had the lower part of his legs mangled by the premature explosion of a cannon.

There were at least ten other accidents.

A Narrow Escape.

NEW RICHMOND, Wis., July 5.—Presence of mine saved Ingvall Olson from annihilation via the dynamite route. Olson was blasting out stumps. He had just exploded one charge and was making his way across the field when he looked into the box in which he was carrying six or eight sticks of dynamite and saw a small blue flame. He was horrified by the realization of the danger he was in, and seemed frozen to the spot. To drop the box would mean certain death. So he placed it on the ground as gently as he could, and then ran. He had gone but a few paces when his curiosity got the better of him, and he faced about. At that instant there was a terrific explosion. He was blinded and stunned and thrown to the ground. He was cut and bruised, and practically disabled, but no bones were broken, his most serious injury, outside of the shock, being a cut in the upper left eyelid.

All the Celebrations.
FOX LAKE, Wis., July 5.—Fox Lake had a big celebration with an attendance of over 4,000 visitors. The oration was by Prof. Keeley.

MADISON, Wis., July 5.—An old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration was participated in here by the citizens of Madison and the 6,000 or 7,000 homecomers visiting in the city.

WINNECONNE, Wis., July 5.—"Something of every minute" expresses the "Homecomers" Fourth here. Beginning at sunrise with the national salute, the noise of which made sleep impossible and turned natives and visitors alike from their beds into the main street, which was a mass of red, white and blue decorations. Races, games, etc., were held and a more enthusiastic crowd never cheered the victors.

KENOSHA—Kenosha had a sane fourth today and only five accidents, all of minor nature, were reported. The summary: Toy pistol, 1; skyrocket, 2; burned with powder, 1; giant fire-cracker, 1. Former Ald. W. H. Robinson was arrested here today charged with selling giant firecrackers. This is the first arrest ever made under that law in Kenosha.

BELOIT—Every one left town today. One of the churches held an old-fashioned celebration. Prof. E. G. Smith of Beloit college, and the Rev. Irving Maurer of New Haven, Conn., were the orators. Only one accident is reported: William Hansberry had a hand badly injured by a cannon.

FOX LAKE, Wis.—Fox Lake enjoyed an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration for the thousands of county residents who were in attendance.

NEW RICHMOND—New Richmond celebrated the Fourth this year with a big parade in the morning followed by many unique contests at the park grounds.

MONROE—Monroe celebrated this year's Fourth of July in the good old fashioned way.

MRS. VAL BLATZ DEAD

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 5.—Mrs. Louise Val Blatz, widow of Valentine Blatz, Sr., died at her summer home on the Whitefish Bay road yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, aged 81 years. Mrs. Blatz was born in Guttingen, Germany, and has resided in Milwaukee since she was 14 years of age.

mer he did much to dissipate the idea this country covets territory to the south and by doing this he performed a large service in the betterment of Latin American relations. While the feeling in Mexico is less suspicious toward the United States than it is in some of the countries farther south, there are various matters on which a better understanding will be possible.

Monroe Doctrine Easy to Live Up To
Broadly speaking, Secretary Root is setting out to get the countries of Latin America more and more to turn their eyes toward this country and less toward Europe. He is building up a situation that will in time make the Monroe doctrine a principle that will require no effort to have it lived up to, because of closer interrelations between the various countries on the Western Hemisphere.

Mexican Development Rapid

The importance of the best possible relations with Mexico is indicated in the fact that Ambassador Creel has left Washington to make an extensive study in the United States and Canada of immigration, strikes and agriculture. This looks to the furtherance of Mexican development. Immigrants of a desirable kind are wanted by Mexico and are being encouraged to locate there. Even the Chinese are being considered as an addition to the population that might be useful. The improved methods of agriculture that are being developed in this country are attracting the notice of such statesmen as Diaz and Senor Creel has been directed by his president to look into them with reference to application to Mexico. As to strikes, the labor union system is being introduced into Mexico and the Mexican government is anxious to take the problem up and solve it before it becomes larger. A commission of the government to investigate strikes and reach conclusions as to their just settlement such as Canada has proposed for Mexico and Senor Creel will look into the workings of this commission in Canada.
